BROWN STATES PURPOSES OF LEGION DRIVE

Business Men and Women of Vernon Applaud Stirring Appeal of Lawyer at Huge Banquet at Presbyterian Church Last Night

"The American Legion has pledged itself to find a home for every homeless orphan of a veteran, a home where health, education, affection and character building shall take the place of disease, ignorance, and development into lives of vice and crime, and for that reason the Legion Endowment Fund campaign has been waged," said Leon H. Brown, chairman of the local drive, in explaining the purposes and method of raising the $5,000,000 fund to a gathering of the business men and women at the Presbyterian church last night. Mr. Brown made a stirring appeal for the support of those present when the local drive is opened, and hearty applause answered his appeal.

"To fulfill its pledge the Legion has its national child welfare service, supported by the nation-wide membership and the auxiliary of women, Mr. Brown stated. Its program is simple, beginning with the determination to maintain the natural home if one parent survives and is at all capable, with temporary help, to maintain that home. Where no parent survives or no home seems possible adoption into a family of carefully selected character is the objective. Foster homes are being found in growing numbers among Legion members, where the adoption of a soldier's or sailor's baby has an especial appeal."

The speaker explained that 5,000 veteran orphans already contracted by the Legion as needing help had already been cared for largely through local posts.

"In some instances temporary and special provision is necessary," he continued. "And for these children the Legion is establishing its series of children's 'billets,' which are group homes of the cottage type conducted 'family style,' with six to twelve youngsters to a cottage, with a house mother. At the billets the youngsters are given attention as to health, are sent to the nearby public schools, and given a home life pending return to their own homes, or adoption."

He stated that the Legion, everywhere is working in harmony and co-operation with existing child welfare agencies, but the Legion was providing real homes instead of herding the children together in institutions or orphanages.

"During 1924 more than 5,000 men died in the United States from disabilities received during their service in the World War," Mr. Brown continued. "Those are the deaths officially recorded and certified to by the government as due to war causes, and does not include veterans who were left whole after their service. Fifteen every day, not mercifully 'killed in action' but going at last to a rest they had earned not once but a thousand times. To those who still live the Legion owes the solemn duty to make the rest of their lives as cheerful and comfortable as possible, effecting permanent cure whenever possible, in seeing that the veterans receive proper government aid, backed by a personal human touch."

The widows and orphans are here in more numbers today than yesterday. And more tomorrow than today. The Legion and all American citizenship should see to it that these children receive the heritage of their American childhood, and are raised to the manhood they are entitled and would have had had their father not sacrificed his life for his country.

"The Endowment Plan is a practical and business-like undertaking," he concluded. "The national honorary committee is headed by President Coolidge, with all the members of his cabinet and the heads of practically every civic and fraternal organization in the country. In the discharge of this sacred obligation of the American people, we know the citizens of Vernon will more than do their part."

VERNON GIRL WINS COUNTY CLUB CONTEST

Miss Cecil Koontz Takes First Place With Party Dress for Second Time—Local Civic Organizations Are Sponsoring A. & M. Trips

Miss Cecil Koontz of East Vernon won the club girls party dress contest here last Saturday, and a free trip to the farmers' short course to be held at A. & M. College July 27 to August 1. She won the contest last year, and made the trip.

Miss Ruth Jackson of Elliott won first place in the school dress contest, and she will also be given a trip to the farmers' short course. Fay Lemons of Elliott and Edwin Smith of West Vernon will make the trip as winners in the poultry contests of this county.

Miss Emma Gunter, local home demonstration agent will make the trip with the local representatives, as will P. D. Chaney, county agent. Last year Mr. Chaney was one of the highest rated contenders in the judging contest held during the farmers' short course. He materially aided in winning fourth place for this district, gleaned 642 points out of a possible 800. In the poultry judging contest, he won 95 points out of a possible 100.

At the state contests last year, Miss Koontz brought honor to the Wilbarger clubs by taking third place in an essay contest in which she wrote on "The Well Dressed Club Girl."

Local civic organizations are sponsoring and financing the trips of the club's representatives to the short course. The Lions Club and the Rotary Club have already agreed to pay the expenses of one representative each, and other organizations have indicated that they will do as much.

The lectures and instructive training of the course are open to all who wish to attend, according to County Agent Chaney, and farmers of this section are particularly requested to attend. Experts in all phases of farm work have been secured to give instructive lectures during the course.

Return From Long Trip.

Mr. and Mrs. James Shepard and little daughter, Anna Louise, returned to their home in Vernon Sunday after along motor trip in which they traveled through the states of Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Kansas and Oklahoma. They report that they found cool weather in Colorado.

Will Leave for Colorado.

Mrs. A. C. Boger and daughters, Doris and Margaret, and son, A. C. Jr., and Mrs. Harry Mason and son, Evans, and Mrs. R. Collins will leave Wednesday for Colorado Springs, Colo., where they will spend the remainder of the summer.

Prominent Citizens of Vernon Express Indorsement American Legion's Endowment Fund Drive

The manner in which local citizens are greeting the opening of the American Legion Endowment Fund Campaign is clearly indicated by the expressed opinion in interviews by a number of the prominent citizens. All were heartily in favor of the drive, and commended the Legion for conducting it.

A number of them are quoted below:

L. G. Hawkins, President of the Waggoner National Bank: "I am indeed glad to endorse and contribute to the American Legion Endowment fund for disabled men and orphans of veterans, those who gave the most, because: First, it is a right and necessary thing to do. No one will deny the right of a veteran's orphan to have a home and the education to which every American child is entitled. Second, because the right agency has been selected to have charge of the work, for the American Legion, as the greatest organization of citizen soldiers, possesses the rightful regard and confidence of all Americans, and its members are peculiarly qualified to look after the interest of their former comrades and their orphans."

Rev. E. L. Moore: "Brave men left their homes a few years ago to uphold high principles of the American people. Many of them made the supreme sacrifice and many more are disabled for life. It is our duty now to remember the disabled veterans who were injured in a national cause together with the indigent orphans of veterans and to assist them in their need. I feel confident that our people will not ignore their obligations."

Kathleen Stewart, one of WEAF's hostess-accompanists, whose musical ability and winning personality has won many friends in the radio world.

W. A. GILLESPIE CAPTURES MAN WHO HAD HIM COV-ERED WITH REVOLVER

At a recent meeting of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads at Kansas City, Vernon was placed on one of the three arterial routes recognized and designated by the Federal Bureau as transcontinental highways. Coming east from San Francisco, the route, as designated, will follow the present Lee Highway. Going east out of Vernon, the route has not yet been designated. Two routes are under consideration. The Bureau is considering Highway No. 5 which goes out of the state at Texarkana and on through Little Rock, Ark. The Lee Highway is the other route being considered.

"My Wife and I" and Buck Jones at the Pictorium

Today is the last showing of "Wife of the Centaur," at the Pictorium. Buck Jones is here Wednesday only in a colorful western and eastern setting, and Thursday and Friday, the Warner classic, "My Wife and I" will be shown.

To those who have read Cyril Hume's novel, "Wife of the Centaur," a sensational novel of a season ago, the feature picture now playing at the Pictorium, will mean a great deal.

And as to those who haven't, the fact that King Vidor directed it, and that John Gilbert, Eleanor Boardman, Aileen Pringle, Philo McCullough, William Haines and others appear in it should mean as much.

"Wife of the Centaur" is a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production and a literal translation of Hume's novel. It was adapted to the screen by Douglas Doty, well-known magazine editor and writer.

A crashing, smashing 18 round championship prizefight with the crowd going wild at the finish is only one of the many features of "Winner Take All," the new prizefight and night life picture of a thousand punches which William Fox presents Wednesday only. Buck Jones steps out in this one; and claws him way up the ladder of fame from "busted" jobless cowboy to the championship ring and the girl.

Five new dwellings were started in Vernon last week, and a number of larger projects neared completion toward the latter part of the week. The west part of Vernon was the scene of the larger part of the building activities.

H. L. Schultz began construction on a five room bungalow in the shire addition on West Wilbarger street.

W. E. Gandy is starting work on a five-room bungalow near his home on Wilbarger street.

J. L. Showers added another story to his home at 2317 Cumberland street during the week.

J. P. Hawthorne is constructing a five-room home on south Cumberland street.

W. E. Hocker is constructing a five-room home on Deaf Smith street.

The $25,000 plant of Waples-Platt Company which is being constructed on the Frisco tracks on north Fannin street is nearing completion. The company expects to occupy the building some time next week.

MR. AND MRS. DAVIS RETURN FROM SIGHT-SEEING TOUR

Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Davis and children have returned from a very pleasant trip through Arizona, Colorado and New Mexico. They visited the Grand Canyon, and spent some time near Winslow, Arizona and Las Vegas, and Santa Fe, New Mexico. Of particular interest to them was the beautiful Painted Desert and Meteor Mound in Arizona. A giant meteor fell there thousands of years ago which covered one mile of ground and plunged 700 feet in the earth. Geologists think that it fell on top of a volcano. The Davis family were at Grand Canyon when news reached them of the earthquake in California. They were headed that way and turned back to take a less dangerous trail.

WOMAN TOURIST STRIKES
LIGHT POST WITH CAR

Last Friday, a woman tourist made a brave effort to take out the electric light post at the intersection of Wilbarger and Main streets. As a result, a small girl was slightly injured, the car was considerably damaged, and the light post was knocked loose in its foundation. Otherwise, no damage occurred.

Les Higgins and family, and Chester Higgins and wife left Monday for White County, Arkansas, on an extended visit during which they will visit Hot Springs and Little Rock.

DECIDE CONTEST ON REASONS FOR LIFE INSURANCE

J. E. Collins Is Awarded First Prize Offered by International Life Insurance Company in Contest Through The Vernon Record

J. E. Collins, 2227 Paradise Street, Vernon, has been awarded first prize for the best letter on life insurance by H. A. Wittiff, State Manager of the International Life Insurance Company, St. Louis, Mo.

Miss Beatrice Hughes, Box 1011, Vernon, was awarded second prize in the contest in connection with an advertising campaign in the Record by the Wittiff Agency.

A. B. Hays, local agent of the company, paid the prizes after the judges had selected the winners.

Following are the prize winning letters:

The years gone by many wildcat life insurance companies have been organized, and for a time seemed to prosper, but many of them were organized by men who had no knowledge of the insurance business, and with inadequate rates, extravagant and inefficient management. Most of these companies have gone on the rocks, leaving thousands of aged men without life insurance, which they had labored so hard to maintain. Today such a condition is impossible. All of the States, and our national government have given such close attention to insurance companies, and they are on so sure a foundation that it is in substance a guaranteed method of protection for our people.

Life insurance is an asset in n

Life insurance companies of today are great financial institutions. Their officers and directors are not elected through any pull they might have, but on merit alone; each must bring to his department a ripe experience, a thorough knowledge of public and financial affairs, and an integrity and reputation so honorable and so completely recognized everywhere, that the highest confidence and best approval of their policy-holders may be at once assured.

There is no argument against the taking of life insurance. There are so many in favor that it is impossible to enumerate them. One of the best reasons is that the protection of one's family, or those near to him, is the one thing most desired, and there is no medium of protection equal to life insurance.

Paul, the Apostle, writing to Timothy said: "But if any provide not for his own, and specially for those of his own house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel."

As local Secretary for a fraternal insurance company, I learned many years ago what life insurance means to the widow, to the fatherless children. I have seen the mortgages paid off, the house saved, the education of the children continued, and the mother saved from the hardship of trying to make a living for her helpless little ones.

Life insurance is an asset in n

man's business; it strengthens his credit; ask your banker, he will tell you the fact that a man provident enough to pay for life protection is an evidence of good business judgment, and good judgment is always a financial recommendation.

Life is uncertain, death is sure. When you sell a man an insurance policy, you sell him a certificate of good health, a certificate of character, an evidence of good citizenship, a release from financial worries, and the consciousness of duty performed.

LET'S HOPE HE'S WRONG ANY WAY.

Some of the lawmakers have called the hand, so to speak, of Tax Commissioner Terrell. The latter came out with a statement a few days ago announcing that the Legislature had failed to appropriate to the Highway Department three-fourths of the funds derived from the gasoline tax and the other fourth to the Department of Education, and that because of this neglect the $9,000,000 expected to be derived from this source would go into the general funds, thus permitting a reduction in the state tax levy for the ensuing year. The ink hadn't more than dried on the newspaper accounts of Mr. Terrell's discovery than out came the Speaker of the House, the chairman of the Senate finance committee of the last Legislature, and several other small legislative fry, averring that Mr. Terrell didn't know what he was talking about. They even went so far as to cite the particular chapter and verse, if laws have chapters and verses, which appropriated the gasoline tax to the Highway Department and the school fund.

It is sincerely to be hoped that the Speaker and other legislators are right and that Commissioner Terrell is wrong, at least so far as this particular law is concerned. To put the gasoline tax into the general fund would do no real good but on the contrary would work serious harm to two important branches of the government service—roads and schools. To begin now to curtail road expenditures would in many cases mean the loss through lack of maintenance of many miles of road which were built at heavy expense. To allow these roads to deteriorate would be the poorest sort of economy. But to subtract two and a quarter million dollars from the available school fund would be still worse folly. We are spending a lot of money in public education, but no well informed person would argue that we are spending too much. In some instances we don't get our money's worth, but some waste is inevitable and we wouldn't stop waste by cutting salaries and reducing the length of the school term in many districts.

A reduction in the state tax rate would be welcome, but the saving would be too dearly bought at the expense of the roads and schools. It seems strange, doesn't it that good roads and good schools persist in staying in one another's company?

LAW VERSUS DEBATE.

There will be a lot of disappointment because the judge presiding over the Scopes trial in Dayton, Tenn., excluded the testimony of number of scientific authorities. Many, of course, were hoping that the experts would be heard merely as a matter of curiosity. Most any of us would be glad to read the ideas of the proponents of the evolutionary theory of the development of man. The admission of the testimony would have made a fine situation for the contest of wits between the fundamentalists, so-called, represented at the trial by William Jennings Bryan, and the modernists, so-called, as represented by a long list of eminent authorities on scientific matters. It would have been a good show, well worth reading about.

But it seems to The Record that the judge was correct in refusing to hear a great mass of expert testimony. Not that the scientists should not be given an opportunity to present their theories on every suitable and proper occasion. The judge who made the ruling could have just as consistently made such a ruling, even if he had been a believer in theory that man had descended from some form of lower animal life. What he should have been concerned with primarily was what was proper under the law for the trial of a man charged with the violation of that law. He seems to have followed the duty to the exclusion of all other questions.

To the average mind it would seem that there is but two issues which could properly be brought before the court. The first involved the constitutionality of the anti-evolution law, that is to say, whether the Legislature sought to exercise a supervision over the public schools beyond its constitutional authority and whether the anti-evolution law abridged the right of free speech or freedom of thought and religion. The court passed on that question by holding the law constitutional. The only other matter, then, for the court to inquire into was whether the defendant had violated the law.

When we try a man for violating the prohibition laws, we don't bring in a lot of experts to testify as to the wisdom of the anti-liquor legislation. It is not the function of the courts to decide matters of policy and it wasn't the business of the Dayton court to decide whether evolution was true or false, whether the teaching of it was good policy or bad. To have made a lengthy inquiry into scientific and theological questions would have been clearly beyond the province of the court.

The legislative branch of government decides questions of policy. It seems that the presiding Judge at Dayton has determined to try a case according to law, rather than to open up a kind summer chautauqua joint debate on two rival ideas of the origin of man, or discuss the similarity of the two accounts, as some seem to prefer to believe.

WHAT MY NEIGHBOR SAYS

Is of interest to Vernon Folks

When one has had the misfortune to suffer from backache, headaches, dizziness, urinary disorders and other kidney ills—and has found relief from all this sickness and suffering that persons advise is of untold value to friends and neighbors. The following case is only one of many thousands, but is that of a Vernon resident. Who could ask for a better example?

W. H. Hancock, part owner service station Wilbarger St., residence 2004 Lexington St., Vernon, says:

"My kidneys were somewhat out of order and the secretions passed too freely. At night this bothered me most, as I had to get up so often. I also had a dull, mean ache in my back. I took Doan's Pills and I am glad to say they cured me. My kidneys acted normally and I was no longer bothered with backache."

Price 60¢, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Hancock had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Neglecting little wound, cut or abrasion of the flesh may in nine cases out of ten cause no great suffering or inconvenience, but it is the one case in ten that causes blood poisoning, lockjaw or a chronic festering sore. The cheapest, safest and best course is to disinfect the wound with Liquid Borozone and apply the Borozone Powder to complete the healing process. Price (Oigold) 30c, 60c and $1.20. Powder 30c and 60c. Sold by All Drug Stores.

In these days of Scientific Farming it is a pretty tough soil that won't succumb to modern farming methods.

Proper seed selection—proper preparation of the soil—careful cultivation—and crop rotation all go to make a larger crop and that is what makes farming pay.

This bank wants to see every farmer in this community prosper—if we can help you, let us know.

DENTON-RICH HERE READY

GEORGE STORY AND JOE
BARNARD WILL BE ON
TONIGHT'S CARD

When Kid Rich ties up with Jack Denton in the open air arena tonight, fans are likely to see one of the most interesting bouts of the year. The bout will likely be a fast-stepping set.

Young Rich, who has recently fought Ted Key to two grueling draws, will take on Duke Lawson of Rayland for four rounds. Rich has been undergoing some pretty stiff training and is likely to send the Rayland lad back home with second honors.

Battling Nelson will attempt to catch Lightning Tom again in four rounds. The last time this colored couple fought here, Nelson was never able to overtake the lanky negro. If Tom has been doing any road work since then, a few matador race records ought to be broken tonight.

Pictorium Adds Late Invention To Local Plant

With the installation of a new lamp using a Parabolic reflector at the Pictorium theater, movie goers may indulge in their favorite pleasure without injury to their eyes. H. S. Sorenson, representative of the Simplex Theater Supply Co., who installed the new lamp here. The difference in the light cast by the new reflector is easily noticeable. The reflector covers the screen with soft, white glow that is pleasing and restful to the eyes. Because of an automatic control, there is no indistinct place in the pictures caused from lack of correct focus on the machine. The main feature of the lamp is the elimination of the discoloration of light, even and greater illumination, and a pure white light that does not flutter.

The installation of the new lamp is only one of a number of actions that the Pictorium has made in observance of the greater movie season which is beginning this month, according to H. K. Grecover, proprietor. A noted specialists recently retuned the pipe organ.

As another move toward better pictures, the management recently expended $10,000 for the latest popular films produced, obtaining exclusive right to all Warner Bros. pictures.

Among some of the popular features which have been booked for the Pictorium are, "Lightnin," "The Iron Horse," "As No Man Has Loved," "Thunder Mountain," "The Fighting Heart," "The Silver Treasure," "Brown of Harvard," well known as a college play, "Sun Up," "The Flesh and the Devil," "Women and Wives," "A Little Bit of Broadway," "Dance Madness," "Lights of Old New York," "The Unholy Three," "The Mysterious Island," "Part Time Wives," "The Johnstown Flood," "Havoc," and other productions that are the pick of the film offered by the best producers.

COMPANY "L" WINS HONORS

RETURNS TO VERNON SATURDAY AFTER TWO WEEKS AT CAMP

Early Saturday morning forty-one sun-tanned members of Company "L," local unit of the Texas National Guard, returned to Vernon after spending two weeks in the annual training encampment which was located at Camp Mabry this year. Besides being tanned by the sun, most of the boys were complaining of sore shoulders from rifle practice while in the encampment.

In contests while at Camp Mabry, company "L" was judged the best drilled company in the Third Battalion, and the third best in the entire regiment.

The local company took part in several interesting military maneuvers while at the capital city, among which was the Defense Test Day celebration. Governor Ferguson reviewed the local unit while it was in Austin.

BROWN STATES PURPOSES OF LEGION DRIVE

Business Men and Women of Vernon Applaud Stirring Appeal of Lawyer at Huge Banquet at Presbyterian Church Last Night

"The American Legion has pledged itself to find a home for every homeless orphan of a veteran, a home where health, education, affection and character building shall take the place of disease, ignorance, and development into lives of vice and crime, and for that reason the Legion Endowment Fund campaign has been waged," said Leon H. Brown, chairman of the local drive in explaining the purposes and method of raising the $5,000,000 fund to a gathering of the business men and women at the Presbyterian church last night. Mr. Brown made a stirring appeal for the support of those present when the local drive is opened, and hearty applause answered his appeal.

"To fulfill its pledge the Legion has its national child welfare service, supported by the nation-wide membership and the auxiliary of women, Mr. Brown stated. Its program is simple, beginning with the determination to maintain the natural home if one parent survives and is at all capable, with temporary help, to maintain that home. Where no parent survives or no home seems possible adoption into a family of carefully selected character is the objective. Foster homes are being found in growing numbers among Legion members, where the adoption of a soldier's or sailor's baby has an especial appeal."

The speaker explained that 5,000 veteran orphans already contracted by the Legion as needing help had already been cared for largely through local posts.

"In some instances temporary and special provision is necessary," he continued. "And for these children the Legion is establishing its series of children's 'bills,' which are group homes of the cottage type, conducted 'family style,' with six to twelve youngsters to a cottage, with a house mother. At the billets the youngsters are given attention as to health, are sent to the nearby public schools, and given a home life pending return to their own homes, or adoption."

He stated that the Legion everywhere is working in harmony and co-operation with existing child welfare agencies, but the Legion was providing real homes instead of herding the children together in institutions or orphanages.

"During 1924 more than 5,000 men died in the United States from disabilities received during their service in the World War," Mr. Brown continued. "Those are the deaths officially recorded and certified to by the government as due to war causes, and does not include veterans who were left whole after their service. Fifteen every day, not mercifully killed in action but going at last to a rest they had earned not once but a thousand times. To those who still live the Legion owes the solemn duty to make the rest of their lives as cheerful and comfortable as possible, effecting permanent cure wherever possible, in seeing that the veterans receive proper government aid, backed by a personal human touch."

"The widows and orphans are here in more numbers today than yesterday. And more tomorrow than today. The Legion and all American citizenship should see to it that these children receive the heritage of their American childhood, and are raised to the manhood they are entitled and would have had had their father not sacrificed his life for his country."

"The Endowment Plan is a practical and business-like undertaking," he concluded. "The national honorary committee is headed by President Coolidge, with all the members of his cabinet and the heads of practically every civic and fraternal organization in the country. In the discharge of this sacred obligation of the American people, we know the citizens of Vernon will more than do their part."

VERNON GIRL WINS COUNTY CLUB CONTEST

Miss Cecil Koontz Takes First Place With Party Dress for Second Time—Local Civic Organizations Are Sponsoring A. & M. Trips

Miss Cecil Koontz of East Vernon won the club girls' party dress contest here last Saturday, and a free trip to the farmers' short course to be held at A. & M. College July 27 to August 1. She won the contest last year, and made the trip.

Miss Ruth Jackson of Elliott won first place in the school dress contest, and she will also be given a trip to the farmers' short course. Fay Lemons of Elliott and Edwin Smith of West Vernon will make the trip as winners in the poultry contests of this county.

Miss Emma Gunter, local home demonstration agent will make the trip with the local representatives, as will P. D. Chaney, county agent. Last year Mr. Chaney was one of the highest rated contenders in the judging contest held during the farmers' short course. He materially aided in winning fourth place for this district, gleaming 642 points out of a possible 800. In the poultry judging contest, he won 95 points out of a possible 100.

At the state contests last year, Miss Koontz brought honor to the Wilbarger clubs by taking third place in an essay contest in which she wrote on "The Well Dressed Club Girl."

Local civic organizations are sponsoring and financing the trips of the club's representatives to the short course. The Lions Club and the Rotary Club have already agreed to pay the expenses of one representative each, and other organizations have indicated that they will do as much.

The thieves broke the glass out of a door, and gained entrance to all who wish to attend, according to County Agent Chaney, and farmers of this section are particularly requested to attend. Experts in all phases of farm work have been secured to give instructive lectures during the course.

Return From Long Trip.

Will Leave for Colorado.
Mrs. A. C. Boger and daughter, Doris and Margaret, and son A. C., Jr., and Mrs. Harry Mason and son, Evans, and Mrs. R. Collins will leave Wednesday for Colorado Springs, Colo., where they will spend the remainder of the summer.

Prominent Citizens of Vernon Express Indorsement American Legion's Endowment Fund Drive

The manner in which local citizens are greeting the opening of the American Legion Endowment Fund Campaign is clearly indicated by the expressed opinion in interviews by a number of the prominent citizens. All were heartily in favor of the drive, and commended the Legion for conducting it.

A number of them are quoted below:

L. G. Hawkins, President of the Waggoner National Bank: "I am indeed glad to endorse and contribute to the American Legion Endowment Fund for disabled men and/or veterans, those who gave the most, because: First, it is a right and necessary thing to do. No one will deny the right of a veteran's orphan to have a home and the education to which every American child is entitled. Second, because the right agency has been selected to have charge of the work, for the American Legion, as the greatest organization of citizen soldiers, possesses the rightful regard and confidence of all Americans, and its members are peculiarly qualified to look after the interest of their former comrades and their orphans."

Third, because a simple, efficient and economical method has been devised, and the Legion is undertaking, with consecrated devotion and business efficiency, the task of rehabilitation of the war's disabled and the welfare of the children of unfortunate veterans."

Judge W. N. Stokes: "I am glad to see the American Legion backed by co-operation of all public spirited men and women, undertake the work of raising the endowment fund for care of disabled and orphan children."

Kathleen Stewart, one of WEAF's hostess-accompanists, whose musical ability and winning personality has won many friends in the radio world.

VERNON PLACED DEPUTY'S GRIT ON U. S. ROUTE BEATS GUNMAN

FEDERAL BUREAU SEND ARTERIAL ROUTE THROUGH THIS CITY

At a recent meeting of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads at Kansas City, Vernon was placed on one of the three arterial routes recognized and designated by the Federal Bureau as transcontinental highways. Coming east from San Francisco, the route, as designated, will follow the present Lee Highway. Going east out of Vernon, the route has not yet been designated. Two routes are under consideration. The Bureau is considering Highway No. 5 which goes out of the state at Texarkana and on through Little Rock, Ark. The Lee Highway is the other route being considered.

It is thought that the action of the Federal Bureau in designating these arterial routes is a defense movement in the part of the Federal Government, according to R. M. Fielder, secretary of the local chamber of commerce. This bureau plans to eventually take over the routes, and in case of war, will use them for the transportation of military supplies exclusively, according to Mr. Fielder.

"What it means to Vernon to be located on one of these main streets of the nation can hardly be estimated," Mr. Fielder stated.

T. L. PIERCE AND PARTY REACH CHEYENNE, WYO.

The Record is in receipt of a card from T. L. Pierce, who, with Mrs. Pierce and daughter, Miss Helen Williams, and Mrs. Hall Pierce of Dallas are on an automobile tour of the West, stating that they had reached Cheyenne, Wyo. The card was dated July 17. They left Vernon July 10.

Mr. Pierce states they are having a pleasant trip and enjoyed a visit in Cheyenne with Mrs. Henry H. Arp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Witty of Vernon.

LOCAL ROTARY TO ENTERTAIN CLUB OFFICERS

First Official Meeting of New Forty-First District of Rotary International Will Be Held Here Monday and Tuesday, September 7 and 8.

Vernon has been selected as the meeting place of the Club executives of the new forty-first district of Rotary International, according to a letter from Walter D. Cline of Wichita Falls, district governor.

The invitation for the meeting to be held in Vernon was extended at a recent meeting of the local Rotary and forwarded to Governor Cline, who had the authority to designate the place for the conference of executives. There are thirty-four clubs in the district and the president and secretary of each club are expected to attend. In addition to these officers, it is expected that there will be a number of other Rotarians in attendance.

The dates of the meeting are Monday and Tuesday, September 7 and 8. Monday is Labor Day and the dates were selected by Governor Cline in the belief that many Rotarians could get away from their businesses on the holiday and attend at least one day of the two-day session.

The local club today began formulating plans to entertain the conference, which is to be the first official meeting of any kind in the new forty-first district. The district includes all territory in Texas west of a line drawn practically due south along the eastern boundaries of Cooke, Denton, Tarrant, Johnson, Hill, McLennan, Falls and Robertson counties, and all territory north of the southern boundaries of Milam, Williamson, Burnet, Llano, Mason, Menard, Schleicher, Irion, Reagan, Upton, Crane and Ward counties.

This is roughly, the northwestern and the greater part of the western portion of Texas and is the largest in point of area of the three districts of Rotary International in Texas. The largest city in the district is Fort Worth. Amarillo will be the meeting place of the first district conference of the new district next March.

"My Wife and I" and Buck Jones at the Pictorium

Today is the last showing of "Wife of the Centaur," at the Pictorium. Buck Jones is here Wednesday only in a colorful western and eastern setting, and Thursday and Friday, the Warner classic, "My Wife and I" will be shown.

To those who have read Cyril Hume's novel, "Wife of the Centaur," a sensational novel of a season ago, the feature picture now playing at the Pictorium, will mean a great deal.

And as to those who haven't, the fact that King Vidor directed it, and that John Gilbert, Eleanor Boardman, Aileen Pringle, Philo McCullough, William Haines and others appear in it should mean as much.

"Wife of the Centaur" is a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production and a literal translation of Hume's novel. It was adapted to the screen by Douglas Doty, well-known magazine editor and writer.

Light of Western Stars Coming to Vernon this Week

The Vernon Theatre is showing this week "The Fast Set," "Potash and Perlmutter" and "The Light of the Western Stars."

Today is the last showing of "The Fast Set" which has enjoyed an unusually good run. Today also marks the closing of the musical comedy act by the Atlantic City Seven both morning and afternoon.

"Potash and Perlmutter" transferred to screen is no less popular as a comedy as when shown on the speaking stage. They are on for tomorrow and Thursday.

"The Light of the Western Stars," popular novel of Zane Grey's, and one of his best westerns, will be here Friday and Saturday.

Advance notices show that the play is up to the standard of his other great silent dramas of the wide spaces. Jack Holt plays opposite Billie Dove in this play and Noah Beery, noted villain of the screen, who played in "The Thundering Herd," "North of 36" and other celebrated western plays is cast for the bad man of the play.

DECIDE CONTEST ON REASONS FOR LIFE INSURANCE

J. E. Collins Is Awarded First Prize Offered by International Life Insurance Company in Contest Through The Vernon Record

J. E. Collins, 2227 Paradise Street, Vernon, has been awarded first prize for the best letter on life insurance by H. A. Whitliff, State Manager of the International Life Insurance Company, St. Louis, Mo.

Miss Beatrice Hughes, Box 1011, Vernon, was awarded second prize in the contest in connection with an advertising campaign in the Record by the Whitliff Agency.

A. B. Hays, local agent of the company, paid the prizes after the judges had selected the winners.

Following are the prize winning letters:

In the years gone by many wildcat life insurance companies have been organized, and for a time seemed to prosper, but many of them were organized by men who had no knowledge of the insurance business, and with inadequate rates, extravagant and inefficient management. Most of these companies have gone on the rocks, leaving thousands of aged men without life insurance, which they had labored so hard to maintain.

Today such a condition is impossible. All of the States, and our national government have given close attention to insurance companies, and they are on so sure a foundation that it is in substance a guaranteed method of protection for our people.

Life insurance companies of today are great financial institutions.

Their officers and directors are not elected through any pull they might have, but on merit alone; each must bring to his department a ripe experience, a thorough knowledge of public and financial affairs, and an integrity and reputation so honorable and so completely recognized everywhere, that the highest confidence and best approval of their policy-holders may be at once assured.

There is no argument against the taking of life insurance. There are so many in favor that it is impossible to enumerate them. One of the best reasons is that the protection of one's family, or those near to him, is the one thing most desired, and there is no medium of protection equal to life insurance.

Paul, the Apostle, writing to Timothy said: "But if any provide not for his own, and specially for those of his own house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidelite."

As local Secretary for a fraternal insurance company, I learned many years ago what life insurance means to the widow, to the fatherless children, I have seen the mortgages paid off, the house saved, the education of the children continued and the mother saved from the hardship of trying to make a living for her helpless

man's business; it strengthens his credit; ask your banker, he will tell you the fact that a man provident enough to pay for life protection is an evidence of good business judgment, and good judgment is always a financial recommendation.

Life is uncertain, death is sure. When you sell a man an insurance policy, you sell him a certificate of good health, a certificate of character, a release from financial worries, and the consciousness of duty performed.

J. E. COLLINS,
2227 Paradise Street, Vernon, Texas

The second prize letter follows.
"Life Insurance is a Necessity"

Everybody should carry life insurance.

1st—Because it is an actual necessity.

2nd—it is one of the very best assets a person can possess.

3rd—it is a protection.

4th—it cultivates the thrift idea.

5th—one can congratulate himself as to having real business qualities if he has a life insurance policy.

There are many reasons why life insurance is necessary. Many people regard life insurance as a very trivial matter, but really it is a great thing for both rich and poor. There are thousands who can testify that it has made them what they are in the business world. It is purely a business proposition. Why neglect it?

Life insurance is a real asset that everyone should acquire some time during the early life. It is much better, of course, to start life's career right, by first taking a life insurance policy very early in life. But, if you did not start right and purchase that policy, it is never too late to do right. "Better late in life than never." One really feels proud of that policy, as well as other men are proud of their personal property.

For protection financially, life insurance has guarded many a home for the little children; for the widow, for the aged, and for the afflicted; even protects the unborn. There are hundreds of cases where the husbands were taken away and leaving a number of little children for no one to care for, except a frail mother. What a struggle for poor mother and children! If she had no life insurance. If mother is not strong what will become of the children. Orphans home, perhaps, would be the landing place. Reverse the scene and you would find it to be almost as bad. If she carried life insurance it would make it so much easier for poor handicapped father. No one likes to care for another's children unless there is some incentive. (that monthly salary.)

Many people have never been taught a lesson in thrift. There are thousands of dollars spent each year for things that are only momentarily pleasures. If one would think right before spending money for such pleasures, many dollars could be saved that might add much to that life insurance payment. Lots of people do not stop to think about these things, one of our greater thinkers must help in such cases. Let's cultivate that thrift idea!

Though you may have acquired all the other qualifications, if you have no life insurance you just lack that much being a successful business man or woman.

Vernon, Texas, Box 1011.

Some of the lawmakers have called the hand, so to speak, of Tax Commissioner Terrell. The latter came out with a statement a few days ago announcing that the Legislature had failed to appropriate to the Highway Department three-fourths of the funds derived from the gasoline tax and the other fourth to the Department of Education, and that because of this neglect the $9,000,000 expected to be derived from this source would go into the general funds, thus permitting a reduction in the state tax levy for the ensuing year. The ink hadn't more than dried on the newspaper accounts of Mr. Terrell's discovery than out came the Speaker of the House, the chairman of the Senate finance committee of the last Legislature, and several other smaller legislative fry, averring that Mr. Terrell didn't know what he was talking about. They even went so far as to cite the particular chapter and verse, if laws have chapters and verses, which appropriated the gasoline tax to the Highway Department and the school fund.

It is sincerely to be hoped that the Speaker and other legislators are right and that Commissioner Terrell is wrong, at least so far as this particular law is concerned. To put the gasoline tax into the general fund would do no real good but on the contrary would work serious harm to two important branches of the government service—roads and schools. To begin now to curtail road expenditures would in many cases mean the loss through lack of maintenance of many miles of road which were built at heavy expense. To allow these roads to deteriorate would be the poorest sort of economy. But to subtract two and a quarter million dollars from the available school fund would be still worse folly. We are spending a lot of money in public education, but no well informed person would argue that we are spending too much. In some instances we don't get our money's worth, but some waste is inevitable and we wouldn't stop waste by cutting salaries and reducing the length of the school term in many districts.

A reduction in the state tax rate would be welcome, but the saving would be too dearly bought at the expense of the roads and schools. It seems strange, doesn't it that good roads and good schools persist in staying in one another's company?

LAW VERSUS DEBATE.

There will be a lot of disappointment because the judge presiding over the Scopes trial in Dayton, Tenn., excluded the testimony of a number of scientific authorities. Many, of course, were hoping that the experts would be heard merely as a matter of curiosity. Most any of us would be glad to read the ideas of the proponents of the evolutionary theory of the development of man. The admission of the testimony would have made a fine situation for the contest of wits between the fundamentalists, so-called, represented at the trial by William Jennings Bryan, and the modernists, so-called, as represented by a long list of eminent authorities on scientific matters. It would have been a good show, well worth reading about.

But it seems to The Record that the judge was correct in refusing to hear a great mass of expert testimony. Not that the scientists should not be given an opportunity to present their theories on every suitable and proper occasion. The judge who made the ruling could have just as consistently made such a ruling, even if he had been a believer in theory that man had descended from some form of lower animal life. What he should have been concerned with primarily was what was proper under the law for the trial of a man charged with the violation of that law. He seems to have followed this duty to the exclusion of all other questions.

To the average mind it would seem that there is but two issues which could properly be brought before the court. The first involved the constitutionality of the anti-evolution law, that is to say, whether the Legislature sought to exercise a supervision over the public schools beyond its constitutional authority and whether the anti-evolution law abridged the right of free speech or freedom of thought and religion. The court passed on that question by holding the law constitutional. The other matter, then, for the court to inquire into was whether the defendant had violated the law.

When we try a man for violating the prohibition laws, we don't bring a lot of experts to testify as to the wisdom of the anti-liquor legislation. It is not the function of the courts to decide matters of policy and it wasn't the business of the Dayton court to decide whether evolution was true or false, whether the teaching of it was good policy or bad. To have made a lengthy inquiry into scientific and theological questions would have been clearly beyond the province of the court. The legislative branch of government decides questions of policy.

It seems that the presiding Judge at Dayton has determined to try a case according to law, rather than to open up a kind summer chautauqua joint debate on two rival ideas of the origin of man, or discuss the similarity of the two accounts, as some seem to prefer to believe.

WHAT MY NEIGHBOR SAYS

Is of interest to Vernon Folks

When one has had the misfortune to suffer from backache, headaches, dizziness, urinary disorders and other kidney ills—and has found relief from all this sickness and suffering, that persons advise is of untold value to friends and neighbors. The following case is only one of many thousands, but is that of a Vernon resident. Who could ask for a better example?

W. H. Hancock, part owner service station Wilbarger St., residence 2004 Lexington St., Vernon, says: "My kidneys were somewhat out of order and the secretions passed too freely. At night this bothered me most, as I had to get up so often. I also had a dull, mean ache in my back. I took Doan's Pills and I am glad to say they cured me. My kidneys acted normally and I was no longer bothered with backache."

Price 60¢, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Hancock had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

To the merchants of Vernon for their courtesies in giving reduced prices on groceries, etc.

To the Fair Association for tendering us the use of their splendid camp grounds and the free use of all equipment thereon.

To the City of Vernon for their many courtesies and sincere cooperation at all times.

To the Vernon and Paradise bands for the splendid musical programs rendered during the encampment.

To the Lions Club for their contribution.

ONE IN TEN

Neglecting a little wound, cut or abrasion of the flesh may in nine cases out of ten cause no great suffering or inconvenience, but it is the one case in ten that causes blood poisoning, lockjaw or a chronic festering sore. The cheapest, safest and best course is to disinfect the wound with liquid Borozone and apply the Borozone Powder to complete the healing process. Price (Liquid) 30¢, 60¢ and $1.20. Powder 30¢ and 60¢. Sold by All Drug Stores.

In these days of Scientific Farming it is a pretty touch soil that won't succumb to modern farming methods.

Proper seed selection—proper preparation of the soil—careful cultivation—and crop rotation all go to make a larger crop and that is what makes farming pay.

This bank wants to see every farmer in this community prosper—if we can help you, let us know.

DENTON-RICH HERE READY

GEORGE STORY AND JOE
BARNARD WILL BE ON
TONIGHT'S CARD

When Kid Rich ties up with Jack Denton in the open air arena tonight, fans are likely to see one of the most interesting bouts of the year. The bout will likely be a fast one as Rich has a habit of stepping any gait his opponent wants to set, and Sailor Jack Denton has a habit of setting a fast pace. In fact his reputation is built around a trip hammer left that keeps up a steady drive even when Sailor was never able to overtake the lanky negro. If Tom has been doing any road work since then, a few narrow race records ought to be broken tonight.

A special bout has been arranged to take place between George Story and George Bernard. These two lads will undoubtedly stage a fast-stepping set.

Young Rich, who has recently fought Ted Key to two grueling draws, will take on Duke Lawson of Rayland for four rounds. Rich has been undergoing some pretty stiff training and is likely to send the Rayland lad back home with second honors.

Battling Nelson will attempt to catch Lightning Tom again in four rounds. The last time this colored couple fought here, Nelson was never able to overtake the lanky negro. If Tom has been doing any road work since then, a few narrow race records ought to be broken tonight.

ATTENDANCE DECREASES AT SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Pictorium Adds Late Invention To Local Plant

With the installation of a new lamp using a Paraboloid reflector at the Pictorium theater, movie goers may indulge in their favorite pleasure without injury to their eyes. H. S. Sorenson, representative of the Simplex Theater Supply Co., who installed the new lamp here. The difference in the light cast by the new reflector is easily noticeable. The reflector covers the screen with a soft, white glow that is pleasant and restful to the eyes. Because of an automatic control, there is no distinct place in the pictures caused from lack of correct focus on the machine. The main feature of the lamp is the elimination of the discoloration of light, even and greater illumination, and a pure white light that does not flutter.

The installation of the new lamp is only one of a number of actions that the Pictorium has made in observance of the greater movie season which is beginning this month, according to H. K. Grecoer, proprietor. A noted specialist recently returned the pipe organ.

As another move toward better pictures, the management recently expended $10,000 for the latest popular films produced, obtaining exclusive right to all Warner Bros. pictures.

Among some of the popular features which have been booked for the Pictorium are, "Lightnin," "The Iron Horse," "As No Man Has Loved," "Thunder Mountain," "The Fighting Heart," "The Silver Treasure," "Brown of Harvard," well known as a college play, "Sun-up," "The Flesh and the Devil," "Women and Wives," "A Little Bit of Broadway," "Dance Madness," "Lights of Old New York," "The Unholy Three," "The Mysterious Island," "Part Time Wives," "The Johnstown Flood," "Havoc," and other productions that are the pick of the film offered by the best producers.

What Our Neighbors Are Doing

The J. H. Higginbotham's gave a party late last week; we were among those present so we missed a little sleep. The invitations they sent out were stylish as could be, their coat of arms was at the top—to show their family tree. And some who came had monograms upon their sedan doors and some were there who came in just ordinary Fords. The silver dinner service they had was simply grand, and branded with the hall mark of the Higginbotham clan. And underside the costly rugs, and on the lovely paintings, was truly told the artist's name to show with pride who made 'em. We wondered how our plebian name could look on sterling silver and truth to tell was feeling small, till old J. H. out in the hall did catch our eye and called us out and pointing to the flooring stout, said, "Mind when I bought that oak of you to lay this floor when it was new?—Just 14 years ago last week and look how nice and new it keeps, despite the wear of many feet, here in this passageway." We looked and saw what J. H. did and underneath those boards was hid the brand "Long-Bell," the trade-mark name, our only claim to pride or fame. And right away we felt first rate—let others have their hall marked plate, we envy no one any thing while we make such good lumber.

COMPANY "L" WINS HONORS

RETURNS TO VERNON SATURDAY AFTER TWO WEEKS AT CAMP

Early Saturday morning forty-one sun-tanned members of Company "L," local unit of the Texas National Guard, returned to Vernon after spending two weeks in the annual training encampment which was located at Camp Mabry this year. Besides being tanned by the sun, most of the boys were complaining of sore shoulders from rifle practice while in the encampment.

In contests while at Camp Mabry, company "L" was judged the best drilled company in the Third Battalion, and the third best in the entire regiment.

The local company took part in several interesting military maneuvers while at the capital city, among which was the Defense Test Day celebration. Governor Ferguson reviewed the local unit while it was in Austin.
